Det. Sergeant Katrina Henderson Graduates from National Forensic Academy

The Murfreesboro Police Department congratulates Detective Sergeant Katrina Henderson on the successful completion of the National Forensic Academy on Friday, November 15, 2013.

The National Forensic Academy is an intensive training program, funded by the Bureau of Justice Assistance, designed to meet the needs of law enforcement agencies in evidence identification, collection, and preservation.

During the 10-week program, Sergeant Henderson participated in classroom instruction, laboratory activities, and field practicums in courses designed to improve a crime scene investigator's ability to process and recover evidence found at crime scenes. Henderson participated in over 400 hours of training on related topics including: Criminal profiling; Bloodstain pattern analysis; Bombs, booby traps and threats at crime scenes; Crime scene management; DNA; Firearms and tool mark identification; Footwear and tire impressions; Forensic fire investigation; Latent fingerprint processing; Trace evidence recovery; Manners of death; Wound pattern interpretation; Crime scene photography, Biosafety, Auto sketch computer drawing, Forensic Anthropology, Time since Death, Exhuming human remains, Post blast Investigation, Bone scatter interpretation; and Forensic Entomology, Odontology, and Osteology.
